Pat Phillips will be bringing a program about Dresden High School FACS/FCCLA program. She has been a teacher for 36 years. She will share how the Family and Consumer Sciences program has changed and how being a Family, Career, and Community Leaders of America adviser helps her to better understand students. LeeAnne Morefield, Madison Taylor, and Morgan Richards will share about our current FCCLA chapter service project that they will be competing with at the state FCCLA leadership meeting in March. Rachel Blassingame, president of our local FCCLA chapter and the state vice-president of STAR events for Tennessee, will be sharing our Dresden High School program of work in FCCLA as well as her role as a state officer. Hopefully Pat will help all of us to find ways that we can help bridge the gap for students in our community.

Join us Tues. Feb. 18 at 11:30 am as we welcome Pat & DHS Students Devotion will be led by Christian Carr, Minister of Students DFBC

Are You Loving Others Well?

Jesus replied: "Love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind.' This is the first and greatest commandment. And the second is like it: 'Love your neighbor as yourself.' All the Law and the Prophets hang on these two commandments." - Matthew 22:37-40

Douglas MacArthur II, nephew of the great General Douglas MacArthur, was an American statesman who served as Counselor to the State Department under Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

MacArthur was known for being a particularly hard worker. Once when Secretary Foster called his home asking for Douglas, Mrs. MacArthur mistook him for an aide and snapped at him. She said, "Mr. MacArthur is where he always is – weekdays, Saturdays, Sundays, and nights – at his office!"

Within minutes, MacArthur got a telephone call at his office from Dulles, who told him, "Go home at once, boy. Your home front is crumbling!"

The most important part of our earthly lives is the relationships we have with those we love – our friends and our family. Yet too often, life distracts us from investing in those relationships. And when that happens, we miss out on the love and support from those God has placed in our lives.

Don't let life distract you from loving others. Make it a point to connect with those whom God has placed in your life regularly. It's one of life's greatest blessings!

Prayer Challenge:

Pray that God would help you stay connected with those whom He's placed in your life – and to love them well!
